Answer key

Every answer carries the reason behind it. Read the reason for the questions you got right as well — that is where you find out whether you were right for the right reason.

A. Multiple choice

1. C) was cooking — The past continuous provides the longer background action that a past simple event interrupts.
2. A) had lived — Before another past event, the earlier situation takes the past perfect.
3. D) used to — Used to marks a past habit that has stopped. The base form follows it.
4. A) used — Be used to means 'be accustomed to' and is followed by a noun or an -ing form.
5. B) was setting — The past continuous paints the scene in progress at the moment of arrival.
6. B) I didn't use to like olives. — After did, the verb returns to its base form: use, without the d.
7. B) was climbing — The past continuous shows the action already under way as the speaker arrived.
8. C) would — Would can replace used to for a repeated past action, though not for a past state.
9. D) We used to own a caravan. — Would works for repeated actions but not for states such as owning something.
10. B) had escaped — The escape was complete before the arrival, so it takes the past perfect.

B. Fill in the blank

1. was — The past continuous gives the longer action that a sudden event interrupts.
2. used — Used to marks a past state that has now ended.
3. had — The past perfect places the departure before the stated past time.
4. use — After didn't, used loses its d and returns to the base form.
5. had — The past perfect continuous explains a past condition by an earlier activity.
6. used — Be used to means accustomed to, and takes an -ing form after it.
7. were — A past action in progress at a specific moment takes the past continuous.
8. would — Would expresses a repeated past action, though it cannot express a past state.
